Field Trip

Conference participants will have the opportunity to explore the scenic Province of Béjaia, located on Algeria's Mediterranean coast. The excursion will feature visits to Pic des Singes (Monkey Peak), a 430-meter summit at Cap Carbon that serves as one of the habitats for the endangered Barbary macaque (Macaca sylvanus), the only surviving macaque species in Africa. The tour includes Gouraya National Park with its dramatic Mediterranean cliffs and diverse ecosystems, Cap Carbon in the Tell Atlas range, and Cap Aokas with its spectacular coastal scenery. Participants will also explore the historic Casbah of Béjaia, an ancient fortified citadel originally built during the Almohad period in 1154 AD, and subsequently developed under Ottoman rule, unveiling the region's rich Berber, Islamic, and Ottoman heritage.

1st INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON FOOD SECURITY AND SUSTAINABLE AGRI-FOOD TECHNOLOGIES

ICFSSAT 2025

HYBRID
(IN PERSON/ONLINE)

October 14th – 16th Bejaia, Algeria

AIMS & TOPICS

As global populations surge and environmental pressures intensify, resilient agri-food systems are critical to ensuring equitable access to safe, nutritious food. ICFSSAT 2025 brings together leading scientists, entrepreneurs, regulators, and community stakeholders to foster interdisciplinary collaboration. Through keynote speakers, policy dialogues, and industry exhibitions, participants will explore cutting-edge agri-food innovations and co-create actionable frameworks that enhance food security, public health, and sustainable livelihoods across diverse global contexts.

Conference Tracks

I. FOOD SECURITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH

II. AGROECOLOGY AND SUSTAINABLE FOOD SYSTEMS

III. VALORIZATION OF BY-PRODUCTS FOR A CIRCULAR ECONOMY

IV. TRENDS AND CHALLENGES IN THE AGRI-FOOD INDUSTRY
